Minute with the Mayor

Dear Citizens,

Well, summer has arrived! The weather has warmed up and our children are enjoying their vacation from school, books and homework. I hope you all will take some time with your families to enjoy our breathtaking parks, walking trails or maybe cool off at the pool located at the clubhouse. We are so very fortunate to have such fantastic amenities right here in our city!

We were all disappointed when the Shin Dig on Shin Oak was cancelled last month due to the rain, but I'm very happy to announce that it has been rescheduled for Saturday, September 26th, so be sure to mark your calendars for this fun event!

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank those of you who came out to the polls and took part in the election process. Congratulations to Mr. Anthony Brooks. He is our new City Councilman, Place 3.

I'm happy to announce Live Oak just opened their new Acorn Room. This "community friendly" room is located off the lobby of City Hall. It's a cozy place where staff can meet with citizens in a more relaxed environment. Citizens are also welcome to access the internet on our free WiFi or public computer. Seniors of Live Oak (SOLO) have two book cases that they are filling with books to accommodate a "Take a Book, Leave a Book" book swap. Please stop by City Hall and check out our latest addition.

It's "Restaurant Month" here in Live Oak, so be sure to look inside the center spread of this magazine for some fantastic coupons to many wonderful restaurants right here in our fabulous city!

Lastly, thank you all for allowing me the wonderful opportunity to serve as your mayor. I am available for comments or concerns at 210-792-7168. Remember, the best is yet to come!

FROM THE OFFICE OF ANIMAL CONTROL

& they lived happily ever “ARF”TER... “FUR”EVER HOMES FOUND!

So many times animals are left to roam the streets, dirty, hungry and unloved and uncared for. Here at the city’s Animal Control Facility, our goal is to find forever homes for each and every one of these sweet animals. Below you will find what makes our job here so satisfying and heartwarming.

OLIVER VON WIGGLEBUTT

Charlie came into our facility last year back in February and we had him for almost a month. Typically white Boxers are born with some kind of defect. In Charlie’s case he was born deaf, which would explain why no one came in for him. We reached out to an organization called Austin Boxer Rescue (ABR) where he was given the name Oliver Von Wigglebutt!! He is now a Service Dog for a little boy and his family!

After

CREOLE

Creole also known as the “Springs Dog” finally came to Animal Control after almost a month of eluding Animal Control. Creole was a stray that was hanging around The Springs at Live Oak apartments. Creole was very shy and would not come to anyone including the residents. Animal Control set humane traps and were finally able to catch her late one evening. She was brought into Animal Control where she very frightened. The next day the Animal Control Officer was able to get in her kennel and sit down with the dog. Before long Creole was on her back wanting a belly rub. Animal Control was able to arrange for Creole to be transferred to South Texas Aussie Rescue. She was then transported to Houston. She was quickly adopted by a family that recently had lost their Aussie. Creole currently resides in Louisiana with her forever family.

BRUCE WAYNE

Bruce was a stray dog we picked from the field off of Cranbrook in October 2014. We reached out to several different rescues to try and get him adopted. Bruce is a dog full of energy and love. All he wanted was a home with a yard and a loving family. After being with us for a little over 6 months, Bruce’s prayers were answered. Bruce was adopted in March 2015 by a loving family here in Live Oak with a big enough yard to run off his energy.

Buster came to Animal Control as a 6 month old puppy. He was always passed up on adoptions for some reason. Over time he started to become very hyper because he was in the kennel all the time and also because he was growing up and needed a home with a yard. We were able to work with Homes for Pets to get Buster into the Starmark Animal Behavioral Center in Hutto, TX for behavioral training/agility training. Buster was at the training facility for close to 2 months. He was finally adopted by a family. Unfortunately the family had to return Buster due to his size. Buster stayed here in Animal Control for a week when we received a call from one of the trainers at the training facility that heard about Buster’s failed adoption. The trainer was concerned for Buster and wanted to give Buster his forever home. The trainer drove down from Arizona 2 days later and officially adopted Buster. Buster is now a proud resident of The Grand Canyon State.

DUCHESS OF LIVE OAK

Hopefully some of you remember the Duchess of Live Oak. A couple of years ago, this puppy came into our facility and was a total mess. We gave her a day at the spa, complete with trimming and a bath from Grooming- dales in Live Oak and she was adopted the very next day! Her owners bring her back to visit us from time to time and everyone loves her! A true puppy success story.

DUCHESS

Before

Duchess was a boxer that we rescued from underneath a mobile unit at a construction site. With a careful approach we were able to pull her out and bring her to our facility. Duchess needed love and attention and definitely a bath because she had been sprayed by a skunk. I posted her profile and got several responses. We knew that when she would be adopted, she would go to a wonderful family. Duchess only spent a few days with us before she was adopted by a mother and her daughter here in San Antonio.

BE WISE AROUND WATER

Every summer, families flock to local swimming pools, vacation at beaches and spend weekends at the lake. Even if you don't leave home, a backyard swimming pool can be potentially fatal to persons of all ages. Here at the City of Live Oak community swimming pool, the lifeguards stand ready and alert to assist in water safety and rescue. If you will be venturing out to other sources of water, please make note of the following safety tips. As always, remember your sunscreen! Even a mild sunburn can turn a fun day into a very painful experience, as well as create lifelong complications.

If you are going to be visiting a beach this summer, the American Red Cross has a few safety reminders.

- Have young children and inexperienced swimmers wear a US Coast Guard approved life jacket in and around the water. No one should use any other type of flotation device unless they are able to swim.

- Don't dive headfirst-protect your neck. Check for depth and obstructions before diving, and go in feet first the first time.
- Pay especially close attention to children and elderly persons when at the beach. Even in shallow water, wave action can cause a loss of footing.
- While you're enjoying the water, keep alert and check the local weather conditions. Make sure you swim sober and that you never swim alone. And even if you're confident in your swimming skills, make sure you have enough energy to swim back to the shore.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has specific guidelines to be followed when it comes to life jackets. Below are two very important rules to remember, not just in the summer but year round.

- All children under 13 years of age must be wearing a US Coast Guard approved life jacket in or on vessels under 26 feet.
- All vessels including canoes and kayaks must be equipped with one wearable Personal Flotation Device (PFD) for each person on board.

The CDC states that drowning ranks 5th among leading causes of unintentional injury death in the United States, with 80% of people who die from drowning being male. Children ages 1-4 have the highest drowning rates. Research has found that taking formal swimming lessons and wearing life jackets will reduce the risk of drowning.

Reduce Storm Water Pollution

Everyone can help to reduce pollution levels in our creeks and streams. Here is a tip that you can use for Lawn Care. Excess fertilizers and pesticides applied to lawns and gardens wash off and pollute streams. In addition, yard clippings and leaves can wash into storm drains and contribute nutrients and organic matter to streams.

- Use pesticides and fertilizers sparingly. When use is necessary, use these chemicals in the recommended amounts. Use organic mulch or safer pest control methods whenever possible.
- Compost or mulch yard waste. Don't leave it in the street or sweep it into storm drains or streams.

Outdoor Water Saving Tips

Here are some great outdoor water saving tips to help you conserve water and lower your water bill:

- Water only when needed. Look at the grass, feel the soil, or use a soil moisture meter to determine when to water.
- Do not over-water. Water needs vary greatly by season, grass species and amount of shade, so keeping the same settings year-round will result in over-watering. As a general rule, three-fourths of an inch of water per week on St. Augustine or Zoysia grasses that are in full sun is sufficient for the summer. In the shade, these species only need one-half of an inch of water per week. Bermuda grass and Buffalo grass, both of which can only grow in full sun, require one-half of an inch per week. In the fall, spring and winter, these recommendations can be reduced or eliminated, depending on the weather.
- Water lawns early in the morning during the hotter summer months. Otherwise, much of the water used can simply evaporate.

Watering by hand-held hose or with a 5-gallon bucket is allowed any time, but water waste is prohibited at all times. Water waste occurs when: watering outside of approved time periods and allowing water to run onto the pavement.

- To avoid excessive evaporation, use a sprinkler that produces large drops of water, rather than a fine mist. Sprinklers that send droplets out on a low angle also help control evaporation.

- Set automatic sprinkler systems to provide thorough but infrequent watering. Rain shut-off devices can prevent watering in the rain.
- Use drip-irrigation systems for bedded plants, trees and shrubs, or turn the flat, green soaking hoses upside down so the holes are on the bottom. This will help prevent evaporation.
- Be careful not to water the streets, sidewalks or driveways.

RESTAURANT ESTABLISHMENT INSPECTIONS

The growing city of Live Oak contracts with Bureau Veritas North America Inc. to conduct the health inspections of 82 food establishments. Food establishments within the municipality of Live Oak are inspected twice a year. If unable to be inspected at this frequency, then inspections are prioritized by risk along with any complaints received throughout the year. Each year the establishments are required to renew their Food Establishment Permits and all food handlers employed by the establishment must have a completion certificate from a Texas Certified Food Safety Course on file with management.

WHAT OUR SCORES MEAN

Our establishments include a wide variety of food industries, such as restaurants, delicatessens, school cafeterias, Daycare Facilities, Fitness Centers, Hotels, Theater concessions, convenient stores, Farmers markets, bakeries and bars. If no violations are found, a score of 100 is achieved. If more than 30 points are lost, a re-inspection is required and corrections must be made to bring the score above 70, in accordance with the State Health and Live Oak Sanitation Codes. If subsequent inspections score below 70, compliance actions will be taken (see sample below).

IMPORTANT NOTICE ABOUT RESTAURANT SCORE INFORMATION

The inspection scores are designed to give consumers an indication of a food establishment's sanitation level during an inspection performed by our Health and Safety Program Manager from Bureau Veritas. The inspection results give consumers a "snap shot in time" of an establishment's sanitation and procedures. It should not be assumed that the inspection results reflect how an establishment always operates. Consumers may draw their own conclusions from their personal experiences to each of the establishments.

While every effort is made to keep the information accurate and up to date within each facility, the City of Live Oak is not responsible for discrepancies between information recorded in our in-house database and the inspection reports posted on food establishment premises. The patron must recognize that inspections are occurring continuously. As a result, scores provided may occasionally differ from the most current inspections. If you have a complaint against any of our establishments, the City provides a Health/Food Complaint form on the website for your convenience. The complaint will be handled promptly by an inspector within 24 hours of this department receiving the complaint form. A follow up report will be provided to the complainant as a courtesy. Should you have any questions on any of the provided information, please do not hesitate to contact our offices at 653-9140, extension 244.

EMERGENCY FOOD & WATER SUPPLIES

In the aftermath of a major incident or a disaster, citizens affected may be in need of many things. Food and water are usually at the top of the list, along with ice, clothing, baby supplies, and various other things. Providing this can be a major challenge for any jurisdiction as we simply don't have the resources or personnel. Fortunately there are many disaster relief organizations that can help out.

The American Red Cross and The Salvation Army are familiar to most people but there are many other organizations known as VOAD's. That stands for "Volunteer Organizations Active in Disasters." There are too many to name but these agencies have many volunteers and the equipment to prepare hot meals for thousands. These organizations have large trailers or tractor trailer trucks holding complete kitchens along with food supplies. They can serve meals to citizens as well as the emergency responders working the disaster.

There are other organizations that can provide clothing, laundry services, hot showers, cleaning supplies, and even pet care. Some agencies actually have the capability to provide child care so the parents can file disaster claims or clean-up their property.

In addition to providing food and water, sometimes citizens simply need water or ice to keep their refrigerators or freezers cold. When this becomes necessary, a special place can be set up called "Points of Distribution Sites" or PODs for short. A POD Site is simply a location like a parking lot or even along a street where citizens in their vehicles can drive up and receive bags of ice and cases of bottled water. Sometimes food is also available and other services too. These sites can be set up quickly, however obtaining supplies and the needed manpower can take a little time.

There are many possible locations around the City such as the school parking lots, the City Hall parking lot, and even the City Park could be used. These sites are set up close to a disaster area but not in the disaster area. Therefore a site will be selected that will meet the needs at the time and it may also depend on the number of people that may be in need.

In closing, the aftermath of a disaster can be trying times for everyone and that is why all citizens need to be prepared for an emergency. A "Family Disaster Plan" is vital along with having some basic supplies on hand such as food and bottled water for a minimum of 3 to 5 days for each person. In a real disaster it can take several days to establish the needed assistance depending on the size. For additional information contact Gary Woppert, the Emergency Manager at 210-653-9140, Ext 379, or on-line at gwoppert@liveoaktx.net.

In today's world of electronic communication, things are often missed, or not understood due to a one dimensional nature. The best means of com-

It is a great opportunity for you to meet some of the officers that work your neighborhoods and business districts. There are no agendas or guest speakers. The format is open and gives citizens the op-

LOCAP GOES TO COURT

LOCAP volunteers have been to court several times this year already. We "go to court" twice a month to assist in Municipal Court. We take our responsibilities very seriously and have been trained on the importance of professional conduct and confidentiality. We assist in any way possible, which may include walking clients to the front window after the judge has imposed a ruling/fine, or even with "crowd control." If you have ever walked into the Justice Center on court days, you know how busy, crowded and hectic it can get!

Other activities in which we have participated this summer have included the Law Enforcement Memorial Vigil, tying blue ribbons on light posts on Shin Oak in front of the Justice Center to commemorate Law Enforcement Week, and tossing candy from the Citizens on Patrol vehicle during the Memorial Day Parade.

Membership in LOCAP is made up of Citizen's Police Academy alumni. The 12-week course is typically offered once a year in the Spring. For information on the Academy, or on LOCAP, please contact the Live Oak Police Department.

Attached Garage Fire Hazards

Garage fires are a present danger, particularly during the growing and mowing season. Our purpose with this article is to give you tips to help guard against a fire happening in your garage. Garage fires do happen, and we'd like you to make sure that a fire cannot easily spread to the rest of your home.

Why do many garages pose a fire hazard?

Where are you most likely to do any welding, or any work on your car? These activities require working with all sorts of flammable materials. Water heaters and boilers are usually stored in garages, and they can create sparks that may ignite fumes or fluids. Car batteries, too, will spark under certain conditions. Oil and gasoline can drip from cars. These fluids may collect unnoticed and eventually ignite, given the proper conditions. Flammable liquids, such as gasoline, motor oil and paint are commonly stored in garages. Some other examples are brake fluid, varnish, paint thinner and lighter fluid.

The following tips can help prevent garage fires and their spread:

If the garage allows access to the attic, make sure a hatch covers this access. The walls and ceiling should be fire-rated. Unfortunately, it will be difficult for untrained homeowners to tell if their walls are Type X fire-rated gypsum. A proper inspector can examine the walls and ceiling to make sure they are adequate fire barriers. The floor should be clear of clutter. Loose papers, matches, oily rags, and other potentially flammable items are extremely dangerous if they are strewn about the garage floor. Use light bulbs with the proper wattage, and do not overload electrical outlets. Tape down all cords and wires so they are not twisted or accidentally yanked.

If there is a door that connects the garage to the living area, consider the following:

Do not install a pet door in the door! Flames can more easily spread into the living area through a pet door, especially if it's made of plastic. Does the door have a window? Make sure the window is fire-rated.

The door should be self-closing. While it may be inconvenient, especially while carrying groceries into the house from the car, doors should be self-closing. You never know when a fire will happen, and it would be unfortunate to accidentally leave the door open while a fire is starting in the garage. Check the joints and open spaces around the door. Are they tightly sealed? Any openings at all can allow dangerous fumes, such as carbon monoxide or gasoline vapor, to enter the living area.

Concerning items placed on the floor, you should check for the following:

Store your flammable liquids in clearly labeled, self-closing container, and only in small amounts. Keep them away from heaters, appliances, pilot lights and other sources of heat or flame. Never store propane tanks indoors. If they catch fire, they can explode. Propane tanks are sturdy enough to be stored outdoors. In closing, there are plenty of things that you can do to prevent garage fires from spreading to the rest of the house, or to keep them from starting in the first place.
